Facilities

- Circulation Counter Section (CLIR-Einstein): This section lends and accepts return check-out and room-use books, assists in online renewal, books reservations, and estimates fines for overdue items.
- Collaborative Learning Zone (CLIR-Einstein): Perfect for small groups that look for creative thinking and productive collaboration.
- Cyber Search Area (CLIR-Einstein): Computers are designated for internet access, which is available for all library users to use for their research.
- Discussion Room (CLIR-Rizal): This space is perfect for group study sessions, and brainstorming discussions. It also offers a flexible environment for conducting interviews and meetings.
- Individual Study Zone (CLIR-Einstein): Specifically designed for quiet, focused study by a single person.
- Social Learning Zone (CLIR-Rizal): A designated area that encourages collaborative learning and group study. Unlike silent study zones, these spaces allow for discussion and interaction.
- Wireless Internet: Library patrons can connect laptops and mobile devices to the wireless internet provided by the institution.
- Web OPAC (Online Public Access Catalog): A web-based facility allowing library patrons to search available print books, journals, thesis, and soon e-resources in our collection. This also allows patrons to make view a list of loaned items, book reservations and renewals, and check on library fines.
